2008-09 Season Preview

A season ago the Penn State Behrend women's basketball team earned its eleventh consecutive winning season with an overall record of 14-13, and regular season conference record of 11-7. The Behrend Lions then continued a remarkable streak in the AMCC Tournament by defeating La Roche 63-49 in AMCC Tournament first-round action and reaching the AMCC Tournament semifinals for the eleventh straight time. That AMCC semifinal appearance means the blue and white have been among the final four league teams competing every season since the AMCC was formed.

This year's women's basketball team is hard at work to keep the winning tradition of Penn State Behrend basketball rolling. Coach Roz Fornari, the winningest women's basketball coach at Behrend, returns for her sixteenth season in charge of the blue and white. Last year she surpassed 250 coaching wins and enters this season with 257 wins with the Behrend Lions. Joining Fornari for the second season will be assistant Alanna Daniels. Also assisting with coaching duties will be Amy Stranahan (16 seasons), Becky Reed (12 seasons), and joining the staff for the first time is former Behrend basketball standout Katie Weigold.

The 2008-09 Behrend team will feature a skilled group of guards who hope to use their team speed to push the pace on opponents. Coach Fornari said, "This is a special group of players who are driven to learn and improve. They are very coachable and their energy makes it an atmosphere we are all enjoying. They bring tremendous intensity that we will need throughout the season."

The seniors and co-captains are guards Natalie Engel (McDonald/Fort Cherry) and Ellen Kolos (Bellefonte/Bellefonte) each of whom played in all 27 games a season ago. Engel averaged 6.9 points and 2.8 rebounds per game and will be looked to for even more scoring this season. Kolos contributed 30 points, 24 rebounds, and 17 assists as a junior guard.

Fornari cites the outstanding leadership those two bring as a factor in the team's success. She said, "Natalie and Ellen have allowed other players to give input and help them lead, and have created a positive and fun atmosphere. They are exceptional and it is because of them we will be successful." The lone junior is Christine Krankota (Conneaut Lake/Conneaut Lake) who increased her role a season ago and snagged 27 boards in 19 games played.

Fornari also expects big things from her three sophomores, Amy Oldach (Erie/Villa Maria), Rachel Richardson (Moon Township/Moon Area), and Kelly Nowacinski (Erie/Mercyhurst Prep). Oldach has superb court vision and will be taking on a larger role as the point guard this season. She will look to improve on last season's totals of 34 assists and 27 steals and should be a fun player to watch for the blue and white. Richardson, who scored 87 points last year, should emerge as a major scoring threat with the ability to take the ball to the hoop and also knock down shots from the perimeter. She will likely play multiple positions and should be among the team's leaders in rebounding. Nowacinski, who played in 18 games as a freshman, made big strides toward the end of last season and appears ready to use her excellent speed and footwork to make a big impact this year.

The freshman class is four deep, and will look to adapt to the college game quickly to make an impact early in the season for the Behrend squad. The newcomers include guards Abby Henderson (Meadville/Meadville), Christie Spear (Erie/McDowell), Kim Pol (Erie/Central), and forward Courtney Bricher (Erie/Central). Bricher is an intense and highly driven athlete who should play the five spot for the blue and white and see significant time this winter.

Defense and stellar home play have been hallmarks of the Behrend women's basketball program under Fornari. Last season was no exception as the Behrend Lions ranked second in the AMCC in scoring defense, yielding just 55.4 points per game. Since the Junker Center opened for the 2000-2001 season, the women's basketball team has played outstanding ball at home. The squad has posted a record of 84-34 in those eight seasons, a winning clip of .712 in front of the Junker Center crowds.

This past summer the women's basketball team also took part in an international trip of Italy in May that included stops in Venice, San Marino, Florence, Pisa, and Rome. This was the program's third international tour of Italy combining a mix of culture and competition. Behrend women's basketball played three games while on the tour against Italian teams, posting a 2-1 record on the trip. The squad will look to benefit from that shared experience to create a tight group with strong team chemistry this winter.

It is no surprise that the schedule will be demanding as always for the Behrend Lions who will play some tough competition in non-conference play early in the season. The annual Behrend Tip-Off Tournament kicks off the season November 22-23, as Penn State Behrend begins the season against Cazenovia. AMCC league play begins December 3 when the blue and white will welcome Mt. Aloysius to the Junker Center in a 6:00 p.m. game to be televised on the Image Sports Network. Behrend will also play another Image Sports televised game on January 14 versus the AMCC defending champion Medaille Mavericks. The conference should be highly competitive once again, with a lot of balance among the usual contenders. The alumni game is scheduled for February 21 before Behrend plays its final regular season home game at 6:00 p.m. versus AMCC foe Pitt-Bradford.

Fornari said, "Our team always has postseason and conference championship expectations. Right now our main focus is to come together as a team and find ways to get better daily." With a skilled group of ball-handlers, strong team chemistry, and an exciting mix of youth and team speed, the 2008-09 Penn State Behrend women's basketball team will push to make it 12 straight winning seasons and looks forward to another postseason run.

In the 2003-04 season, the blue and white posted the second most wins in school history with a 22-6 team that managed an 11-1 record in AMCC play en route to both the regular season and conference tournament championship. It marked the third time that Fornari has led the program to the NCAA Tournament.

Penn State Behrend

Tour of Italy 2008

The Behrend Lions women's basketball team completed their third trip to Italy from May 20-30, 2008. They took in the sights and sounds of many well known Italian cities. They also mixed in a little basketball along the way.

The ten day trip began in Venice where they spent a half day on a walking tour of the city and later stayed at Hotel Gabriell. The following two days were spent at a beautiful seaside resort town of Pesaro located along the Adriatic coast. After a tour of the town the Behrend Lions competed and won their first game of the trip versus Italian competition, Basket 2000 Senigallia.

The team then traveled to San Marino, the oldest Republic in the world, where the team spent the day sightseeing. Behrend then traveled to Florence, arguably one of the best cities in the world. Upon arrival the blue and white toured San Marcellino and played their second game of the tour. The Behrend Lions fell to 1-1 in Italy. After three days in Florence the team traveled to Lucca and Pisa, two small and unique towns. At the end of the day the team arrived at their final destination, Rome.

Rome houses Italy's most famous sites. The Vatican, Sistine Chapel, ancient Rome, the Trevi Fountain, the Coliseum, and Circus Maximus were team favorites on the tour. The team played their final game of the tour versus Centro Sportivo where the blue and white came out with a victory to improve to 2-1 in Italy.

Along with a record of 2-1 the Behrend women's basketball team returned with memories that will last a lifetime.

Welcome to Penn State Behrend

Penn State Erie, The Behrend College, offers more than 4,600 students the learning opportunities and resources of a major research university in a student-centered environment. The college offers thirty-four bachelor's, six associate, four pre-professional, and two graduate programs with twenty-two minors in four schools—the Sam and Irene Black School of Business, the School of Engineering, the School of Humanities and Social Sciences, and the School of Science—plus a nursing program.

Penn State Behrend is ranked among the top public colleges and universities in Pennsylvania by U.S. News & World Report on a number of important measures, including student-to-faculty ratio, SAT scores, first-year student retention rate, and graduation rate. More than 75 percent of our students who go on to graduate with Penn State degrees complete their degrees at the college. According to recent student surveys, ninety-six percent of those graduating seniors would recommend Penn State Behrend to friends considering college.

Our 725-acre campus features more than 50 buildings and is recognized as an arboretum through membership in the American Public Gardens Association. More than 1,650 students live in on-campus residence halls, suites, and apartments in buildings all named for commanders and ships that took part in the Battle of Lake Erie in the War of 1812.

Campus life is enriched by more than 110 clubs and organizations. The athletic program features twenty-one NCAA Division III varsity teams—ten for men and eleven for women—as well as intramural and club sports, and student fitness activities.

As part of a land-grant institution, Penn State Behrend is uniquely positioned to advance the economic, social, and intellectual welfare of northwestern Pennsylvania through research and outreach. Annually, the college funds nearly $250,000 in undergraduate research opportunities. Outreach efforts include more than two dozen centers, programs, and initiatives for business and industry, area school students, and the community.

Penn State Behrend Athletic Facilities

Behrend Fields

The college's soccer teams compete on the Behrend Fields, located northwest of the baseball and softball complex and across the bridge over Trout Run.

The complex comprises four multi-purpose athletic fields and a putting green. The facility was created in 1988, thanks to a pacesetter gift of $1.4 million from an anonymous donor. The fields are also used for intramurals and course instruction. They accommodate a variety of play configurations, including flag football and softball.

Other outdoor facilities on campus include lighted tennis courts and sand volleyball courts.

Junker Center

The growth of athletics at Penn State Behrend has led to the development of new indoor facilities. The $10.2 million Junker Center, which opened in the spring of 2001, comprises 72,800 square feet, including outstanding volleyball and basketball facilities.

The center features three all-purpose courts and a gymnasium seating 1,600, an eight-lane swimming pool, three-lane running track, jumping pits, aerobics room, locker rooms, offices, and a variety of exercise equipment. The fully equipped Jageman Fitness Room provides a variety of exercise equipment for students, faculty, and staff.
